

If you need Equality and Diversity training for your employees, Hayley Trovato can help.

Training sessions will last around 45 minutes to an hour and will cover the following:

- What Equality and Diversity is and why it is so important
- An introduction to the Equality Act 2010
- The Protected Characteristics
- The types of discrimination prohibited under the Equality Act 2010
- Unconscious Bias
- What we can all do to encourage inclusiveness and understanding in the workplace
- Case study questions – this will bring together everything covered in the seminar and can be done as a whole group exercise or in small groups. Providing your staff Equality and Diversity training is not just about trying to limit liability, but importantly it can help you to promote a fairer, more tolerant and diverse working environment resulting in more motivated and happier staff.

At the moment we are offering the training for £250.00 plus VAT, this price is limited only to those bookings made in July 2019. The training doesn't have to take place in July but the booking must.
